1867.

Entered according to Act of Congress, in the year 1867, by
G. OWENS,
In the Clerk's Office of the District Court of the United States, for the Southern District of New York.

PREFACE.

The present volume is respectfully submitted to public consideration, with a belief that a careful examination of its pages, will prove it to be a useful book of reference.

It has been the aim of the compiler, to make the Salt Lake City Directory as complete as possible, and to give true and unprejudiced information.

Thanks to the press, public officers, and others, who have promptly and courteously given information for the book while it was in course of preparation.

Respectfully, the COMPILER.

Deseret News, October 1st, 1856. Remarks by J. M. Grant, Bowery, Sunday Morning, Sept. 21st, 1856.

"I would ask how many Covenant breakers there are in this city, and in this kingdom. I believe there are a great many; and if they are covenant breakers, we need a place designated, where we can shed their blood."

Deseret News, October 1st 1856 Remarks by Brigham Young, Bowery, Sunday Afternoon, Sep. 21st, 1856.

"There are sins that men commit, for which they cannot receive forgivness in this world, or in that which is to come; and if they had their eyes open to see their true condition, they would be perfectly willing to have their blood spilt upon the ground, that the smoke thereof might ascend to heaven as an offering for their sins; and the smoking incense would atone for their sins, whereas, if such is not the case, they will stick to them and remain upon them in the spirit world. I know, when you hear my brethren talking about cutting people off from the earth that you consider it a strong doctrine; but it is to save them not to destroy them."

Oct. 15th 1856. Third Handcart emigration company arrive in S. L. City.

18 6. 5th and 6th Handcart companies arrive in S. L. City.

Deseret News, Nov. 19th, 1856. Remarks by Brigham, Young, Tabernacle Nov. 9th, 1856. (Reported by G. D. Watt.)

"Some of the Elders seem to be tript up in a moment, if the wicked can find any fault with the members of this church; but bless your souls, I would not yet have this people faultless, for the day of separation has not yet arrived. I have many a time, in this stand, dared the world to produce as mean devils as we can; we can beat them at anything. We have the greatest and smoothest liars in the world, the cunningest and most adroit thieves, and any other character that you can mention.

We can pick out Elders in Israel, right here, who can beat the world at gambling, who can handle the cards, cut and shuffle them with the greatest rogue on the face of God's footstool. I can produce Elders here, who can shave the smartest shavers, and take their money from them; we can beat the world at any game. We can beat them, because we have men here, that live in the light of the Lord; that have the Holy Priesthood, and hold the keys of the Kingdom of God."

1857. Tabernacle was built in 1857. It is 126 feet long, 64 feet high, arched with a pillar, and will accommodate about 2, 500 persons. A wooden building has been attached to it, and a large bowery, capable of containing 6,000 persons.

1857. In the fall of 1857, —Yates, a mountaineer, was taken prisoner near the camp of the army at Hans' Fork, and murdered in Echo Canyon, by one of the party who held him as a prisoner.

September 7th 1857. An emigrant party arrived in Mountain Meadow about 300 miles southeast from Salt Lake City, and camped at the south end of the valley. They had property variously estimated, at from 200, to 700 head, and thirty wagons. They were attacked by whites and Indians, and fought several days, having been without water from five to seven days. An Indian who spoke English, came in their corral, and they made an arrangement or treaty with said Indian. The whites and Indians to have their property, and permit them to return to Painter's Creek, and Cedar City. After they had done this, the treaty was basely broken, and 120 men, women, and children, were killed. Several in attempting to escape, were overtaken and massacred. Sixteen children, ranging from three to eight years old, were spared.

Dec. 4th, 1857. News of the massacre at Mountain Meadow, was received from Geo. W. Hancock, a merchant in the town of Payson, a few days after its occurrence. A Utah Indian, who had been absent for some days, gathering pine nuts west of lake Sevier, returned, and said that the Mormons had killed all the emigrants. Another Utah Indian came in and confirmed the report. Brigham Young, at the time of the Mountain Meadow massacre, claimed to be, and was acting as Superintendent of Indian affairs.

1857. A party in the fall of 1857, consisting of five men named John Aiken, Honesty John, Mr. Eichard and another gentleman from Mariposa County, Cal., who came to this place on business connected with the army; one was killed in Salt Lake City, and his body thrown into Jordan river. The other four were taken South, and two of them were murdered between Nephi (Salt creek settlement), and Fillmore, by a party of white Indians, who attacked them on the road. The other two having made their escape, fled back to Nephi, where they were also killed.

Two Irishmen, teamsters, who were discharged at Fort Bridger from the employ of Messrs. Russell, Majors and Wardell, attempted to make their way through to California, were murdered four miles below Fillmore Clty.

1857 and 1858, "In the winter of 1857 and '58, one Franklin McNeil was incarcerated in prison; being put in irons, during the Mormon war, for no other crime than being an American citizen. Mr. McNeil sued Brigham Young for false imprisonment, on the 2nd of August. The day preceding the appointed time for trial he was called to the door of his boarding house by some unknown person, and shot down. He died of his wounds next morning, and thus the suit was abated. The murderer was never discovered."

"A man by the name of Drown brought suit upon a promissory note for $480 against the Danite captain, Bill Hickman. The case being submitted to the court, Drown obtained a judgment. A few days after, Drown and Arnold were stopping at the house of a friend in S. L. City, where Hickman, with seven or eight of his band, rode up to the house, and called for Drown to come out. Drown refused. The Danites thereupon dismounted from their horses, broke down the doors, and shot down both Drown and Arnold. Drown died of his wounds next morning, and Arnold a few days after. No prosecution was attempted for the above crimes.

David McKenzie was arrested in the summer of 1858, charged with engraving plates for counterfeiting Government drafts on the treasury of St. Louis. The evidence showed that the engraving had been done in the upper part of the Deseret store, in S. L. City. This store is within the inclosure of Brigham Young's premises. Judge Eckels, who issued the warrant, directed the Marshal, Peter K. Dotson, to seize the plates, and any other matter that might be found in the room where the engraving had been done, which would establish the offence. The Marshal accordingly went to the room and siezed the plates. He also found another plate there, belonging, as it since appears, to Brigham Young, and used for striking off the Deseret currency; and observing that the copper plate upon which the counterfeit engraving had been made, had been cut off one side of Brigham's Deseret currency plate, he brought away with him the currency plate. After the trial, Brigham refused to take them back, but brought his action against the Marshal, P. K. Dotson, in the Probate Court.

Probate Courts throughout the Territory, held in violation of the organic act, are dignified into courts of co-equal jurisdiction with the Federal Courts. An appeal can be made from these courts to the District court, but the appeal is almost always refused. Brigham obtained judgment againt Marshal Dotson, for $2,600. An appeal is refused; execution is issued. Dotson's property was sold, and he was turned out of his house--a property that would have rented for $500 per annum; Brigham's agent having bought it in." The above is from the "Valley Tan."

1858. The murder by a Mormon bishop of one of his wives in the spring of 1858, because she had apostatized; he cut her throat as she knelt at his feet imploring him to spare her life.

Henry Jones and his mother were murdered about the 13th of August, 1858.

August, 1859. Marshal Dotson sent in his resignation August 1st 1859. He returns nearly one hundred warrants for about one hundred murderers, unexecuted. For the reason, no ability to serve them. He closes in a letter to Buchanan, as follows: "I cannot remain an officer of the government without the power to maintain its dignity."

April tth 1859. Affidavit of Nathaniel Case. Nathaniel Case said, that the Sunday after the murder, at a church meeting in Payson, Charles Hancock, then bishop, said, as to the murder of Jones and his mother, he cared nothing about it: and it would have been done in broad daylight, if circumstances would have permitted it. This was said from the stand; there were one hundred and fifty or two hundred persons present. He gave no reason for killing them.

March 18th, 1859. Sixteen children were collected at Santa Clara, in pursuance of the direction of J. Forney, Superintendent of Indian affairs.

1859. J. Forney says, that the purpose of his visit was, to see, and learn the condition and character of the Piute tribe of Indians, and to bring certain children to S. L. City. Toward the close, he says, that the above tribe of Indians have been, and are charged with the above crime. "Last August, my attention was called to the Mountain Meadow affair, officially. Since then, I have made diligent enquiry, got the written statement of persons living in the nelghborhood, and finally visited the southern county; and now, after full enquiry and examination, I deem it to be my imperative duty to say, that the Indians had material aid and assistance from the whites, and in my opinion the Piute Indians would not have perpetrated the terrible massacre without such aid and assistance." Mr. Jacob Hamlin, and others of Santa Clara, expressed much anxiety to bring t e guilty to justice.

March 29th 1859. Before Judge Cradlebaugh, Judge of 2nd Judicial District; Andrew J. Moore, Thomas Hollinshead, Utah county, Amos B. More, Provo City, Utah county, concerning the murder of Henry Jones and his mother. Bannion, residents of Springville, were received, regarding the Parish murder. Abraham Durfee makes confession concerning the Parish murder.

Statement regarding the execution of laws in Utah. "It has been said that we have courts in Utah; and the questson is frequently asked, why do not the courts act? The uniform testimony of the judges, is to the effect that the courts are powerless. More than fifteen Federal Judges, who have gone to the Territory, have so stated."

May 6th. Charles Brewer. A. S. Surgeon, sent in his report of the Mountain Meadow massacre.

July 6th 1859. R. P. Campbell Capt. 2nd dragoons, commanding Santa Clara expedition, sent in his report, establishing the fact of Mormon complicity in the Mountain Meadow massacre. Mr. Rogers, the deputy Marshal, was also engaged in hunting up the children survivors of the massacre; they were all found in the custody of the Mormons. "Three or four of the eldest, recollect and relate all the incidents of the massacre, corroborating the statements of the Indians, and the statements made by the citizens of Cedar City to me." John Calvin Sorrow, a boy eight or nine years old, one of the sixteen children spared at Mountain Meadow massacre, after he found that he was safe, and before he was brought away from salt Lake City, said, "Oh, I wish I was a man! I know what I would do; I would shoot John D. Lee; I saw him shoot my mother."

General Carter visited Mountain Meadow, and erected a monument to the memory of the dead. "It was constructed by raising a large pile of rocks, in the center of which, was erected a beam 12 or 15 feet in height. Upon one of the stones he caused to be engraved, "Here lies the bones of 120 men, women and chi dren from Arkansas, murdered on the 10th day of September, 1857." Upon a cross tree he caused to be painted, Vengence is mine saith the Lord, and I will repay it. "This monument is said to have been destroyed, the first time Brigham visited that part of the Territory."

At the Inquest of Dr. J. K. Robinson. It was disclosed at the examination of police officers of Great Salt Lake City, that the ci y was guarded day and night, by a police force, consisting of a Captain of police, and eight policemen, all told. Three policemen at a time on duty; one at the City Hall, and two in the neighborhood of East Temple street. On the night of the murder of Dr. Robinson, nearly the entire police force were at the circus till abont 11 o'clock, and afterwards at the City Hall, until Mr. Weimer appeared, and announced the assassination. Four policemen immediately proceeded to the scene of the murder, and remained an hour or so; returned to the City Hall, and went to bed. There was no search made for the assassins, and after 2 o'clock there was no watchman at all, even to patrol the streets, nor any effort to discover the murderers. There is an organization, known as secret, or Ward Police, consisting, according to one witness, of about five hundred; another gives a still higher figure It is well known that there is a person, called a "teacher," to be found in nearly, if not quite every block in the city.

SALT LAKE CITY, U. T.

Salt Lake City lies at the western base of the Wasatch mountains, in a curve formed by a spur from the main range, which forms its northern boundary. It is in 40' 45' 44' and 112' w. Altitude, 4,300 feet.

The City is four miles square, streets 132 feet wide, with, the exception of those in the nineteenth and twentieth wards, and cross each other at right angles, forming blocks of 10 acres, at first subdivided into lots of 1¼ acres each, which are generally reduced in area, as the city becomes more populous..

It was settled in June, 1847, by a band of 143 persons, who commenced ploughing, planting, and building houses, the same month. The first habitations were placed so as to form 4 forts, including an area of about 40 acres. Fifteen months afterwards, the population was said to have increased to about 5,000 souls.

The Mormons practice polygamy in the City, and Utah.

Ecclesiastically, the city, with the Mormons, is a Stake; having its President, two counsellors, and a high council. The Mormons in each ward, are presided over by a bishop of their denomination, who is assisted by two counsellors.

PROVO CITY, U. T.

Provo City is 49 miles south of Salt Lake City. It is the county seat of Utah county. It has two small parks called Union and Temple, which are each 24 rods square; a Mormon house of worship, capable of accommodating about 1,500 persons, a bowery for holding meetings during the summer and fall, on Temple block; a tithing yard containing the tithing office and store, in which is stored from 4000 to 5000 bushels of grain annually; and it is said to be brought in punctually.

The tithes consist of money, general produce, and everything that is produced by the people. Provo City is divided into six mnnicipal wards, four of which are divided into Bishop's wards. There are six public schools, one of which is a high school for boys and girls.

It has a place for theatrical performances called Cluff's Hall, which is used as a theater from December till March, and as a paint and furniture shop the rest of the year. Provo river runs through a canyon of the same name, and empties into Utah Lake about three miles above the city. It affords excellent facilities for milling and manufacturing purposes. Estimated popnlation of Provo City, 3000.
